

We've been making sandwiches and tossing salads for over 16 years. Some have said we take our catering business too seriously. It's our sole mission to make you look good, and our well-crafted caterings will bring you the fame and acclaim you deserve. With that said, it's crucial not only to nourish the troops, but also to inspire them with unique food, as illustrated below.

Our Sassy Garden Avocado Sandwich once inspired a product innovation that resulted in much acclaim and fortune for a local manufacturer's R&D team. The hue of the pickled ginger in our Chinese Chicken Salad spurred a local interior designer to redirect her focus toward more earth tones, resulting in critical praise from her clients and colleagues. Our espresso brownie bar ended an 8-day writer's block for a couple of screenwriters at a well-known local production company. A junior at a local high school scored a near-perfect 2350 on his SAT while on a pesto chicken and provolone sandwich bender.
